American Concrete Institute Wisconsin Chapter Year 2018 Membership Registration

WITH THE EXCEPTION OF THE CATEGORIES LISTED AT THE BOTTOM OF THIS PAGE, A PERSON'S WISCONSIN CHAPTER MEMBERSHIP CATEGORY IS THE SAME AS THEIR ACI INTERNATIONAL MEMBERSHIP CATEGORY.

Individual Member – a person

Honorary Members – a person of eminence in the field of the Institute's interest, or one who has performed extraordinary meritorious service to the Institute. An Honorary Member shall have the same rights and privileges as a Member, but shall not be subject to dues.

Fellow – a person who has made outstanding contributions to the production or use of concrete materials, products, and structures in the areas of education, research, development, design, construction, or management.

Organizational Member – a firm, corporation, society, agency of government, or other organization.

Sustaining Member – a person, firm, corporation, society, agency of government, or other organization electing to provide additional support for the activities and welfare of the Institute by payment of greater dues.

Junior Member – a person less than 28 years of age.

Student Member – a person 28 years of age or less and a registered full-time student at an educational institution.

Exempt Member – a member that has paid dues for 45 years and is now exempt from paying dues.

ADDITIONAL CATEGORIES PARTICULAR TO THE WISCONSIN CHAPTER FOR THOSE INDIVIDUALS THAT DO NOT HAVE MEMBERSHIP IN ACI INTERNATIONAL.

Distinguished Chapter Members – individuals, not current officers, who have made exceptional contributions in connection with the objectives of the Chapter and the Institute. They shall be selected by the Board of Directors of the Chapter and shall be exempt from Chapter dues but not Institute dues.

Affiliate Chapter Members – members of the Chapter only and not the Institute. Affiliate Members may not hold office within the Chapter, nor vote on propositions before the International membership.
